

Jennifer Horn speaks at January BMRC Meeting

BROOKLINE, NH January 10, 2009 -- The Brookline-Mason Republican Committee (BMRC) held its first monthly meeting of 2010, at the Brookline Fire Station on January 7. The featured speaker was Jennifer Horn, who started her campaign for New Hampshire's Second District Congressional seat in October.

Speaking before a packed audience in Brookline, Horn outlined some of her philosophies that she hopes will push her to victory. "As the greatest nation on earth, we have to defend and fight for our freedoms," she said. "But our congress has become dysfunctional with career politicians, earmarks, and wasteful spending." Horn said that the body of individuals in Congress needs to be reformed. "We cannot move forward productively unless we change how Congress works," Horn noted. "I'm for term limits and for making sure that legacies are built on what our elected officials accomplish. Too many of them subscribe to 'Party over People,' and that needs to change."

As a mother of five living in Nashua, Jennifer can relate to the issues and challenges facing our nation. "Since I'm not a career politician, I'm actually better qualified to see how the actions and inactions of Congress hurt real people." Horn finished her remarks before addressing numerous questions from Brookline and Mason residents, which touched on issues ranging from health care reform and education to illegal immigration and national security.

More information can be found at Horn's excellent web site,
<http://www.jenniferhorn.org>.

For more information about the BMRC, please contact:

Irina Owens, Chairman - BMRC
irinaowens@yahoo.com

Christopher Van Veen, Communications - BMRC
cvanveen@charter.net

Jennifer Horn addresses members of Brookline-Mason Republican Committee at its January 2010 meeting, held in Brookline on January 7.

Jennifer Horn answers questions from the audience at the January meeting of the Brookline-Mason Republican Committee.

